Western Canada's largest art fair returns to the Vancouver Convention Centre

Vancouver, B.C. – Back and bigger than ever, Art Vancouver is set to return to the Vancouver Convention Centre on May 5–8, 2022.

Art Vancouver's vision is to unite nations through the power of art by bringing artists and galleries from across Canada and around the world to showcase fresh, contemporary work in the heart of the city's downtown waterfront.

Returning to its annual schedule after two years, Art Vancouver welcomes 100+ exhibitors, making Vancouver a destination city for art lovers. Unique to this year, the inclusion of art in the form of non-fungible tokens (NFTs) will add a new level of dynamism to the art fair.

Attendees can engage with interactive activities such as a live art competition, speaker panels and an art runway show on the opening night.

About Vancouver Visual Art Foundation

Established in 2017, the non-profit organization was started to make art accessible to everyone, with the goal of promoting and developing Vancouver's visual art community into a thriving international art scene. VVAF hosts their main annual event, Art Vancouver, a four-day international art fair showcasing artists from across Canada and around the world.
